

Trauma-Informed, Attachment-Based Training & Consultation Program

The Knowledge Center at Chaddock (TKC) is accepting applications from eligible non-profit organizations, government agencies and/or schools who wish to develop, or expand, their trauma-informed and attachment-based practices.

Understanding developmental trauma and attachment is essential for those working with children, families, and individuals. But knowledge alone isn't enough—it takes a strong foundation to respond effectively and compassionately to complex mental health needs.

APPLICATION DEADLINE:

FEBRUARY 7th, 2025

 Available in Adams, Brown, Cass, Greene, Hancock, McDonough, Morgan, Pike, Scott and Schuyler Counties

Your Custom Plan Could Include:

- Reflective Coaching (Individual or Group)
- Virtual or In-Person Training
- On-Site Coaching and Observation
- Strategic Planning and Leadership Guidance
- Consultation Services
- Training Development
- Access to On-Demand Webinars

Areas of Expertise:

- Attachment Theory
- Developmental Trauma
- Child Development
- Building Resilience
- Compassion Fatigue
- Self-Awareness, Vulnerability and Reflective Practice
- Child, Adolescent and Adult Mental Health
